

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

The present invention relates, for example, to an isolated DNA comprising a sequence which encodes a cold-active beta galactosidase that is specific for lactose and has a stable enzymatic activity at a temperature below 8°C. In embodiments of the invention, the DNA is isolated from the psychrophilic bacterium Pseudoalteromonas haloplanktis.